NEW AGRICULTURAI SETTLEMENT.

TO ALL WANTING FARMS,

A RARE OPPORTUNITY IN A DELIGHTFUL AND HEALTHY CLIMATE 25 MILES SOUTH-EAST OF PHILADELPHIA, ON THE CAMDEN AND ATLANTIC RAILROAD, NEW JERSEY.

An old estate consisting of several thousand of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land,, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vinyards and peach orchards, planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION, Products bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price in the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand.—He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place; good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will sell land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, THE RAILROAD COMPANY GIVES A FREE TICKET FOR SIX MONTHS AND A HALF-PRICE TICKET FOR THREE YEARS.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Foundries for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would affect the improvement of the place can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land: leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 60 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia. Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

OUR IDOL.

Close the door lightly,
Bridle the breath,
Our little earth angel
Is talking with death;
Gently he woos her,
She wishes to stay,
His arms are about her,
He bears her away!
Music comes floating
Down from the dome;
Angels are chanting
The sweet welcome home.

Come stricken weeper!
Come to the bed;
Gaze on the sleeper—
Our idol is dead!
Smooth out the ringlets,
Close the blue eyes—
No wonder such beauty
Was claimed in the skies;
Cross the hands gently
O'er the white breast,
So like a wild spirit
Strayed from the blest;
Bear her out softly,
This idol of ours,
Let her grave slumbers
Be 'mid the sweet flowers.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL and Jayne's Expectorant, at Dr. Harry's.

glory, pass them and enter the shop of an artizan. She could not resist the wish that the great Washington should see the child. She waited at the door until he was passing out when she said to him, "Your Honor, this little boy is called for you." Washington paused, and asked his name; then with solemnity, such as belonged only to him, he laid his hand upon the fair head of the child, and said, "May God Almighty bless the lad." Washington's blessing! What an inheritance! And who shall say that the good man's benediction followed not the boy—the youth—the man? Who so sceptical as to hazard the opinion, that the benison so devoutly uttered by him from whose lips never passed a trifling word, was not interwoven in the after life of the happy child, and passed into the fabric of his destiny, as the warp interlaces with the woof?—Who, but He whose Almighty blessing, was invoked upon the boy, can tell how that blessing like a guardian angel, all unseen, led the career of the future man; a career, glorious in the world of letters—in the universe of high and noble thought, as the career of the great man for whom he was named, was sublime and glorious, in the world of arms—in the universe of great and mighty deeds? Who, but He, who sees the end from the beginning, could have foreseen, how those great stars in their country's firmament, would, though set in different fields of glory, shine, the Blessed, with a lustre, so much the counterpart of the Blessing? How gloriously pure their light—Washington the hero of many battles; unstained with one drop of blood in wantonness spilt—Washington, the statesman, the ruler; yet guiltless of the statesman's and the ruler's ambitions and crimes and intrigues. Well might the bard of Britain and of Greece, himself, alas! a mighty meteor, flashing, but with baleful light, exclaim,

"Where may the wearied eye repose
When gazing on the great,
Where neither guilty glory glows,
Nor despicable state,
Yes, one, the first, the last, the best,
The Cincinnatus of the west,
Whom envy dared not hate,
Bequeathed the name of Washington,
To make man blush, there was but one."

Well merited was the tribute; and how appropriately could it be paraphrased to apply to Irving, the author of many books. Who, that has gathered garlands from the fields of secular literature for more than a half century, can produce a record so unstained by any unwholesome thought, as is his? Pure as his own life were his writings; not one thought did either of his many volumes contain, that dying, he could have wished unwritten. No covert apology for vice, no cavil at truth; no scoff at virtue; no dangerous opinion; no pernicious, demoralizing sentiment, found authorship in him. Others have penned great thoughts; but how often are their great thoughts coupled with the base! Others have written beautiful things, but how often are their beautiful things, stained and shadowed by conceptions of hideous deformity? Full many there are who have written, and the world in frenzy of admiration, has fallen down to worship at the shrine of their transcendent genius; but of how few of them can it be said, "the pearls they gathered from the deeps of the unbounded ocean flood of mind," were pure, as brilliant? From the "Bard of Avon's" pen, not always flowed an uncorrupted stream. The muse of Ayr, not always brought in purity, her strains to him, who struck immortal notes on Scotia's lyre. The harp of him, who waked the plaintive melody of Erin, and sang the impassioned lays of Persia and of Araby the Blest, was not always tuned to virtue; and even the King of minstrelsy and of romance—the sage of Abbotsford, regretted, dying, that some things he had written could not be recalled.

Not so with the author of the "Sketch Book." He was great in genius; but it was the simplicity and purity of his character, more than his genius, that drew around him at all times, a host of loving friends—It was the impartation of that pure and simple character, that gave to his writings their greatest charm. How appropriate that he should be compared to Washington; how deserving of his name; how worthy of his blessing; and how beautiful and still how wonderful, that after a long career of honor; (to which he was providentially, by early reverses directed) honor not only in his own land, but world-wide; he should close that career, by linking their two immortal names together, and crown his own fame by recording that of the illustrious man, whose name he bore; and and as if to carry the analogy beyond the limit of time, like Washington, he laid all his trophies upon the altar of a living faith, and died as he had lived, a "Christian gentleman." But I have digressed from the intention of this paper. Personal recollections are apt to savor too much of the first person singular: The Ego and meus, are generally offensively predominant; yet how otherwise can they be written? I'll make the venture, for I have seen, I have talked with, Washington Irving.

I need not tell how the generous humor of Diedrich Knickerbocker charmed me; (they who have read him appreciatively, will understand me) nor how I pored over the "Sketch Book," until its author had won my boy heart; (for a boy I first read it, and I'm a boy again when I read it now, and I loved him for his fun first (fun's, the big gate to a boy's heart) and then for his pathos, nor how I dreamed in the dream land of "Sleepy Hollow"—sympathized with, and laughed at Ichabod Crane—imagined each thunder shower, that "old Hendrick Hudson and his jolly crew," were again at their game of nine pins—rejoiced at the escape, poor, hen pecked Rip Van Winkle's, long nap, gave him, from the tongue of his termagant wife; —wept at the heart melting story of the "widow and her son;"—nor how my mirthful and my martial spirit ran mad races with each other, at the recital of the valorous deeds of Hard Koppig Piet and Rising, the bold, at the "battle of the Manhattoes;"—nor how I wandered in imagination amid the enchantments of the Alhambra. Enough to say, I felt as every one feels, who can read his genial, noble heart, mirrored in his books—I knew him in spirit, but I long wished to see the man, and my wish was gratified.

During a few days, in the early part of July, eighteen hundred and fifty eight, I was the guest of a kind New York friend, whose country seat, lies adjacent to Irving's Sunnyside. The gentleman to whom I allude, was an intimate associate of Mr. Irving's; since one of his pall bearers. On Sunday, July fourth, I accompanied the family of my friend to service at their place of worship, Christ's church, Tarrytown, of which both he and Mr. Irving were vestrymen. After the conclusion of the order of Morning prayer, the venerable rector announced a collection for the poor, and as the vestrymen were waiting on the congregation, for their contributions, the son of my friend directed my attention to one of them, and whispered "that is Mr. Irving." My eye followed him, as he passed up the aisle and laid the day's gifts, within the chancel, and turned to go to his pew. I was disappointed: not in the face, it was the same handsome, intellectual, thought-beaming countenance I had seen in his portraits, taken in his manhood's prime; though olden, and I thought, touched with a shade of sadness. But my fancy had given him a tall, imposing form, whereas he was not above medium height, slightly bent, and somewhat inclined to corpulency; and his mien was not as I had deemed, majestic, it but humble, though dignified, and I thought, beneath the stained light of the sacred place, full of reverence.

When next I saw him, it was in a different scene. On the evening of the fifth there was a festive gathering, and a display of fire works, at the villa of a New York merchant, resident in the neighborhood. The scene was one of gaiety and of grandeur. The palace, (for it is a regal edifice,) stands on a high elevation, overlooking the Hudson. The lawn in front seemed a perfect feu de joie and in all directions for many miles, on either side of the river, for hours, the night was illumined by rockets, and other pyrotechnic displays, sent off from the towns and villages and country seats, and to one unaccustomed to such scenes, it seemed the enchantment of fairy land. It was here I had the honor of being presented to Mr. Irving. He was surrounded upon all sides, the center of attraction to many anxious to converse with him, and I did little else but look and listen, but it was something worth, to look and listen there. I shall long remember it, neither shall I soon forget his warm shake of the hand, and his cordial good night, as we parted from him to go home.

The next day, I visited scenes made classic ground by the touch of his magic pen—the place of Andre's capture; Sleepy Hollow; the old Dutch church, with its grave yard and quaint epitaphs; roamed over over the hills and bathed in the Tappan Zee, and towards evening of the next, with a friend, strolled over to Sunnyside. As we approached the antique edifice, we observed through the open window, that the family were at dinner; so we continued our walk, through the grounds, and on to the adjoining grounds of Mr. Grinnell and whiled away a half hour looking at the objects of interest—the beautiful vistas; the rustic bridges; the grotesque statues, the miniature lakes, the mimic waterfalls, and returning, found Mr. Irving with his brother and the ladies of his household—his nieces, sitting in the open air on the veranda and beneath the trees. Mr. Irving rose to meet us, and in reply to a remark, that we had taken the liberty of trespassing upon his domain, he said "all, even strangers, feel at liberty to come here, then certainly we should make our friends welcome." Knowing how precious was his time, and how persecuted he was with admiring visitors, we tarried but a little while in common place conversation, making no reference to the fact, that he had ever written a book, for my friend knew, and I had heard, how such allusions annoyed him.

After bidding the family good evening, we lingered on the lawn, to take a last look at the beautiful Tappan Zee, spread out beneath the setting summer's sun, like a lake of molten gold; once more looked at the old mansion of Sunnyside (immortalized by its great owner as "Wolfert's Roost") with its quaint battlements, and ivy covered roofs; its arched portal and ancient weathercock; (the same that of yore graced the old "Stadt Haus" at Albany) stopped to view the old English park gateway with its vine-covered stone pillars, taking from it as a memento of my visit, a leaf of a scion of the Abbotsford Ivy brought by Irving from England, and we were beyond the precincts made sacred by the residence and touch of one of America's greatest sons—certainly her greatest author.

It is past, but I shall not be thought weak nor vain, by those who appreciate the great genius, and great heart of Irving, that I have dwelt with pleasure on the honor I enjoyed in having pressed his hand, and listened to his voice. That hand is cold; that voice is hushed in death; but that voice will never be silent while fame lasts—that hand has inscribed his among

"The bright immortal names
That were not born to die."

While his own Hudson rolls its mighty tide to the ocean, his memory must live; he dies to earth, but it is to add another star to the bright galaxy of those, who have reached forth and seized on immortality.

Schools, &c., of South Woodberry.

It has frequently been suggested by those persons having charge of the Department of Common Schools, that the local press, by devoting a portion of its columns to the subject of Schools and Education, might be made a potent auxiliary in awakening the citizens, teachers and pupils to a true sense of the deep interest, which all should feel in our Common Schools, by diffusing into the different districts that spirit, necessary to the success of every school.

Feeling confident that the worthy editor of the "Gazette," is as favorable to the cause of Education as ony man can be, I have contributed this article for that paper, most welcomed into our community. The schools of South Woodberry, are all open and in active operation; and, with one or two exceptions, where the whooping-cough has retarded the progress, they have been carried on with unprecedented success. A visit to these schools, in company with the Directors, affords a pleasant pastime for wintry days, when the "pelting hail, and the drivelling rain," render it unpleasant to follow any out-door employment. Try it, parents. J. E. Satterfield, the Secretary of the Board of Directors, is doing execution, unparalleled in our district, in his visits to the schools, by pointing out to the pupils the importance of attending properly to their studies, the necessity of obedience to their Teacher, and by his words of encouragement to the Teacher.—The example of his genial good humor seems to be contagious. Always pleasant himself, the Teacher is greeted with a smile from every face in his presence. The Teachers meet once a week and it is gratifying to observe, how anxious they are to improve themselves. The Water-street Lyceum meets on Friday evening of each week, and discusses a question. During the evening of Dec. 23d., '59, the question, "Was the execution of John Brown" (of Harper's Ferry notoriety,) "justifiable?" was discussed in presence of a large audience. J. E. Satterfield presided. Champion on the affirmative, J. B. Fluke, on the negative, J. R. Durborrow. Decision—Affirmative. From this society has originated an important feature. Several of the citizens of South and Middle Woodberry, assembled and subscribed liberally toward raising a fund for a library. The first selection of books has been sent for; so that, without doubt, in a few days, we will have access to as many books, as our leisure hours will permit us to peruse.

☞"A neighbor of mine missed corn from his garner, and his suspicions rested upon a reckless fellow whom everybody called 'Sam.' The corn was kept in a chamber over the kitchen, adjoining the wood-house toward which the chamber was left open and accessible by a ladder. The victim of this midnight 'theffery,' as another neighbor calls it, determined to satisfy himself concerning the identity of the thief, made a temporary bed upon the kitchen floor and lay down to watch. About the hour when "church-yards yawn" he was aroused from a partial slumber by the rattling of the ears of corn overhead, when he suddenly called out at the top of his voice,

"'Sam!'

"'Hello!" responded the thief, taken entirely off his guard by this sudden call.

"'Don't take more than a bushel!'

"'Then I shall have to pour it out; for I've got two in the bag already!'"

"If a dog's tail is cut off entirely, will it not interfere with his locomotion?" 'Not exactly; it will not affect his carriage, but it will stop his wagging.'

Death of Baron Macaulay.

The literary world is called upon to mourn another serious loss. A lyric poet of peculiar power, an essayist of unrivalled brilliancy, and a historian whose vivid and energetic style, will always render his works attractive in spite of their deficiencies, Thomas Babington Macaulay deserved to rank among the greatest writers of the present century. The steamship Europa brings intelligence of his untimely demise, in the maturity of his faculties, and the increasing lustre of his fame. Mr. Macaulay was born in the year 1800. He was the son of Zachary Macaulay, a wealthy African Merchant, who, in opposition to his own interest, was a resolute advocate of the abolition of slavery in the British Colonies. The younger Macaulay entered Trinity College, Cambridge, England. He was a close student, and gave evidence at an early age, of the possession of a very superior intellect. At Cambridge, he obtained some of the highest honors the University could bestow. In 1822 he took the bachelor's degree, and obtained a fellowship at the October competition, open to the graduates of Trinity. Upon leaving Cambridge, Mr. Macaulay began the study of law at Lincoln's Inn, and in 1829 he was called to the bar. In the meantime, however, he had devoted much attention to general literature. During his collegiate days he had written a poem entitled Pompeii, which obtained a Chancellor's medal, and during the same year in which he was admitted to practice at the bar, his very remarkable essay upon Milton appeared in the Edinburg Review. This was the first of a series of essays, which greatly contributed to increase the reputation of the author and the Review.

His History of England attained at once a popularity unequalled by any similar work ever published. We have not the space to speak here of its merits, but must express the regret that it, like so many great works, has been left unfinished.

Mr. Macaulay was a decided supporter of the Whig party, and the Whig government appointed him Commissioner of Bankrupts. Shortly afterwards, in 1832, he was elected to the House of Commons to represent the constituency of Calne Wiltshire. In 1834, he was elected member for Leeds, at the same time, he held the position of Secretary of the India Board. Toward the close of the same year, however, Mr. Macaulay resigned his appointment and his seat in Parliament, to take a membership in the Supreme Council of Calcutta. He held this lucrative post three years, when, returning home, he was elected member for Edinburg. Since that time though his name occasionally appeared he never took an active part in politics, but devoted his thoughts and energies to his historical labors. His recent elevation to the Peerage excited a good deal of comment, and while it was considered but a just tribute to a man of Mr. Macaulay's worth and services, it was thought by many that it would have done him more credit, had he shown the same disregard for such honors as Mr. Hallam manifested. He, it will be remembered, when the heritable title of baronet was offered to him by Sir Robert Peel, simply said, that he would be governed entirely by the wishes of his son, who, when consulted, replied that he was content to be known as the son of Henry Hallam, to whom no title could add dignity. Lord Macaulay had won a rank which was higher than that which any earthly sovereign could confer, and posterity remembering what he did, and what he was, will be inclined to think that he honored the Peerage more than it honored him.

☞Old Rowe kept a hotel in the northern part of this State, which he boasted was the best in "them parts;" where, as he used to say, you could get any thing that was ever made to eat. One day in comes a Yankee, sends his horse around to the stable, and stepping up to the bar, asked Old Rowe what he could give him for dinner.

"Any thing, Sir," says Old Rowe; "any thing, from a pickled elephant to a canary-bird's tongue."

"Wa'al," says the Yankee, eying Old Rowe, "I guess I'll take a piece of pickled elephant."

Out bustled Rowe into the dining-room, leaving our Yankee friend nonplussed at his gravity. Presently he comes back again.

"Well, Sir, we've got 'em all ready right here in the house; but you'll have to take a whole one, 'cause we never cut 'em!"

The Yankee thought he would have cod-fish and potatoes.

☞A merchant entering his store in the morning, found his Bobby attempting to throw all kinds of somersets.

"What are you about?" asked the merchant, looking astonished at the evolutions of the boy.

"Obligin' my girl," replied the exhausted youth. "She's writ me a letter, and at the bottom, she said—turn over and oblige, and I've been going it for mor'n half an hour."

☞A Dutchman went into a cooper shop, and asked for an empty barrel of flour, to make his dog a hen-coop.

☞Fashionable riding-habits are very pretty, but unfashionable walking habits are pretty, too, and a great deal better for the health.

☞At a colored ball, the following notice was posted on the door post:—"Tickets fifty cents. No gemmin admitted unless he comes himself."

☞Very polite—a man in Jersey Shore the other day, as he passed a hen on her nest, was heard to say. "Don't rise, ma'am."

☞"Union is not always strength," as the sailor said when he saw the purser mixing his rum with water.

When the man pushed his wife into the fire, he gallantly remarked, "let the toast be dear woman."

TERRITORIAL SOVEREIGNTY.

The doctrine of Popular Sovereignty, as enunciated in the Cincinnati Platform, means the power of the people of the Territories to control their own affairs, and mould their own institutions, "in their own way," subject only to the Constitution of the United States. This point is undisputed. There can be no question about it. But there seems to be some difference of opinion between leading Democrats as to whether the Constitution prohibits the people of the Territories from deciding the question whether, or not, negro slavery shall exist within the Territory. It is not disputed by either side that the people of the Territory have the right to determine this question for themselves when they come to form their constitution, preparatory to their admission into the Union as a State. Neither is it contended by either party that slaves cannot lawfully be taken into the Territories and held there as property. The difference, however, consists in this, that Senator Douglas and those who coincide with him, maintain that though the slave-holder may take his slaves into the Territories, he can hold them there only at the will of the Territorial Legislature, which by indirect, unfriendly enactments, or by positive prohibition, can exclude slavery from the Territory; whilst, on the other hand, President BUCHANAN and, we may safely say, the great mass of the Democrats, hold that the Territories, being the common property of all the States, purchased equally by the blood and treasure of the South and of the North, are open alike to emigrants from all the States, who have the right to take with them into the Territories, and own and enjoy there, whatever is recognized as property in any of the States, and that the question of slavery can be decided only when the people form their constitution with the view to ask admission into the Union.—Hence, it will be perceived, that the only practical difference between the disagreeing parties, is as to the time when the people of the Territories have the power to decide the slavery question. Senator Douglas takes the position that the people of the Territories, through their representatives in the Legislature, can at any time abolish slavery. President Buchanan declares that this can only be done when the people of the Territories come to form their State Government, in as much as the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that negro slavery exists in the Territories so long as they remain such, by virtue of the Constitution. We have thus particularly and carefully stated the difference between Douglas and the President, not that we intend to argue the point at issue, but because it may be made a bone of contention before the coming State Convention, and because we desire our readers clearly and fully to understand it. The whole slavery question is an abstraction, and cannot be made of any practical benefit to the country, though it may do infinite damage, and whilst we agree entirely with the views of the President on the subject of Territorial Sovereignty, and shall look to the State Convention for a hearty endorsement of the National Administration, we believe, at the same time, that there need be no controversy in that body on the present disagreement between Senator Douglas and President Buchanan. Our opinion is that the Convention should dispose of the subject of slavery in the Territories, by simply saying that they are the common domain of all the States, and that whatever is property by law in any of the States, may be taken, held and enjoyed there by the owner, and if any of the rights of property shall, according to the judgment of the proper tribunal, be in any way infracted, or annulled, it is the duty of the General Government to see that such rights be restored and protected. This would make the whole subject of slavery in the Territories a question for the Courts, and would take it altogether out of the arena of politics. Under our construction of the decision in the Dred Scott case, it would not be necessary to bring this subject again before the Judiciary. We believe that that decision is conclusive in favor of Mr. Buchanan, and that under it slave-holders are guarantied the right to hold their property in the Territories until a State Constitution prohibits them from so doing. But there are those who differ from us, alleging that the question of Territorial Sovereignty was not before the Court in the Dred Scott case. For this cause and for the further reason that we believe it will thoroughly harmonize the party, we say let the settlement of this question be left to the Courts.

☞Hon. Samuel Robinson, of Fulton county, has been appointed Revenue Commissioner for this judicial district. Judge Robinson is well qualified for the position to which he has been appointed and will, doubtless, perform the duties of the office with satisfaction to every part of the district.

☞'Duncan's' and J. W's articles will appear soon.

Printer to the Senate.

The election of General Bowman as Senate Printer, is a matter of sincere gratification to his old friends and neighbors in Bedford. The persistent and violent opposition which he had to encounter, makes his triumph doubly glorious. His election is a thorough vindication from the slander and obloquy which were heaped upon him. The highest legislative body known to our government, has honorably acquitted him of the charges preferred against him, and with such a verdict, the General may well disregard the puny attacks of those who, through malice or envy, are impelled to assail him. We tender him our hearty congratulations.

Local and Miscellaneous.

—We are happy to inform our citizens that our artist friend, MR. VALLADE, has agreed to remain a short time longer with MR. GETTYS, for the purpose of painting Photographs in his new and elegant style so much admired and praised by all who see his pictures. In order to give all an opportunity of procuring one of his fine paintings, he offers them at 25 per cent less than heretofore. Persons desirous of securing correct likenesses, painted in the most beautiful style, will please call at Gettys' Photographic Gallery, soon. Mr. G. has also received a lot of cases which he offers at his usual low prices.

—At the recent term of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Fulton County, the Grand Jury ignored the bill of indictment preferred against James B. Sansom, Esq., for forgery. It seems that some of the Black Republican leaders of Fulton county, insane with rage at their defeat last fall, attempted to revenge themselves by prosecuting Capt. Sansom for forgery, which they alleged he had committed in printing certain handbills which were scattered over the county immediately preceding the late election. The result of their efforts, was the ignoring of the bill by the Grand Jury and the privilege given them by the Court to pay the costs of prosecution.—MORAL: Politicians should never try to mend their fortunes by going to law.

—Thieving, in a small way, seems to have become a regular trade among some persons in this neighborhood. A few nights ago the dwelling of Rev. Mr. Sample, was entered and a considerable quantity of flour, a number of jars of pickles, &c., taken therefrom. We learn also that some flour was taken from the hotel of Mr. Steckman. It is said that "nothing's so hard but search will find it out," and we think a little watchfulness would soon detect the perpetrators of these petty thefts.—They ought to have a free pass to Allegheny.

—Abraham R. Craine, a worthy citizen of Bedford township, died on Friday morning last. Mr. Craine, we believe, was, at one time, Steward of the Bedford County Poor House.

—The Democratic Convention of Huntingdon county, has chosen Jacob Cresswell delegate to the State Convention, with instructions to support Breckinridge delegates to Charleston. Hon. W. P. Schell, of this county, was selected as Senatorial delegate.

—The Opposition pretend to be great friends of specific duties, yet, when Democrats are willing to do all they can to have a tariff of such duties adopted by Congress, when, in fact, a Democratic President is the great leader in the struggle for such a tariff, these Opposition friends of specific duties, denounce them as insincere and try to break their influence by every means in their power. In proof of this we refer our readers to the recent action of the Opposition Legislature of this State, in so framing their Tariff resolutions that no Democrat could have voted for them without stigmatising the President and dishonoring his party.

—We hear that it is rumored that Governor Packer intends to veto the Resolutions recently adopted by the Opposition members of the Legislature, which sustain the supporters of SHERMAN, the endorser of the Helper book.—We hope for the credit of Pennsylvania, this rumor is founded in fact. Should Governor Packer refuse to sign those Resolutions, he will make friends of hundreds, aye of thousands, who have been politically estranged from him. Pennsylvania does not recommend any such doctrines as those contained in the infamous publication of which SHERMAN is the endorser. Pennsylvania does not counsel the slaughter of slave-holders, nor do her people believe that a man cannot be a patriot without being an Abolitionist.

—No Speaker yet.

DEATH OF ANDREW SCOTT, ESQ.

The well-known editor, critic and publisher, Andrew Scott, Esq., of Philadelphia, died at his residence in that city, on Friday morning last. It is with profound regret that we make this announcement. Mr. Scott was one of our earliest friends, and we recall with sincere gratitude his words of encouragement when, in our boyish days, we became a contributor for his paper. May he rest in peace! The following notice of his life, appeared in a recent number of the Evening Argus:

This morning at two o'clock, Andrew Scott, one of the best practical printers and energetic publishers, breathed his last at his residence in Ninth street, below Locust. Mr. Scott's life was an eventful one, and of the many journalists in this city, we can remember none who was more adapted to the position that he for years so creditably filled.

In early life he entered as an apprentice, the office of Chas. Alexander, at the age of nineteen he was foreman, and upon attaining his majority became a partner in the Daily Chronicle, Alexander's Weekly Messenger, and the Job department of the establishment. He was not only a bold and vigorous writer and able "maker up" of news for a weekly sheet, but was a correct and able theatrical critic.—He was adequate to any emergency, whether physical, mental, or moral, and when Andy Scott (as he was familiarly called), either spoke or wrote, his words were heard. His dramatic articles were candid and to the point, and he never allowed either personal friendship or animosity to interfere with his ideas of correctness.

In 1844, when Burton had Mr. Hilton arrested on a false charge, Mr. Scott wrote a bitter, but, at the same time, a truthful article, and the consequence was Burton sued, Scott was convicted, sent to prison, and immediately pardoned.

In 1845, he severed his connection with Mr. Alexander, and 1846 commenced the publication of "Scott's Weekly Paper," one of the best hebdomedals ever issued in the country.—He secured the services of the best literary people of the day: George Lippard, Howard Meek, E. C. W. Greene, Mrs. Joseph C. Neal, R. H. Levering and others, himself included in his corps of contributors.

In 1851, he issued a programme for a mammoth sheet, but the proprietors of the Saturday Courier, Neal's Gazette, and Saturday Post combined against him, and sent placards through the country that acted detrimentally to his prospects. He sued the conspirators and got judgment, and for years afterwards kept "Scott's Weekly Paper" in a flourishing condition.

Since that period Neal's Gazette died out, McMakin's Courier went to the dogs, and the Post is a fossil. In 1854 Mr. Scott, through mistaken kindness, assisted a wealthy publisher in this city, and finally became involved.—The publication of the Weekly was suspended, although the job printing office, No. 16 Hudson's alley, did a lucrative business. In the month of September, 1854, Mr. Scott in association with E. W. C. Greene, and the late G. G. Foster, started the Sunday Review. The paper was short-lived, and since that time Mr. Scott has been out of business, his heart broken, and his ambition crushed by those who should have been (instead of enemies) warm and devoted friends.

As a man Mr. Scott was sociable and philanthropic; as a printer none could excel him; as a publisher, was energetic; as a master, kind; and as a citizen, generous. To his apprentice boys he was a guardian more than a master, and he who wrote this paragraph can attest to the interest he took in our welfare. Let us hope "that after life's fitful fever he sleeps well."

The Negro Disturbance in Canada.

The Public Schools of Chatam Taken in Possession by Several Hundred Negroes.

SCHOOL DISTURBANCES AT SANDWICH—THE BEAUTIES OF PRACTICAL ABOLITIONISM.—The negro disturbances which were alluded to in our issue of yesterday, were not overrated in importance, as is confirmed by subsequent advices, while the extent of the agitation was much greater than was at the time surmised. In regard to the fiendish transaction enacted at Anderdon, half of the truth was not told. Officers are still in pursuit of the rescued criminals, and great indignation prevails throughout the whole vicinity, so that, if they are caught and delivered into the hands of the populace, they will be severely dealt with.

At Chatham, forty miles from this city, a crowd composed of several hundred negroes took possession of the public school houses early on Monday morning, and, when the white teachers and scholars arrived, refused to allow them to enter or in any manner obtain possession of them. As there seemed to be a disposition to carry matters with a high hand, the authorities were called in, but, from the fact the negroes inhabiting the town far outnumber the white citizens, there were no means available except those of conciliation. The Africans were headed by one Shudd, a negro who has made himself prominent in that vicinity for some time, having been concerned in the forcible rescue case which occurred there two years ago. The Mayor and Councilmen assembled on the spot, accompanied by a majority of the citizens. The whole town was in an uproar in consequence of the warlike demonstrations of the negroes, and the crowd and excitement were consequently very great. The negroes demanded not only that the schools should be thrown open to them, but that they should be allowed to participate in their management, which, on account of their numbers, is equivalent to giving them the control. The conference continued some hours, the authorities maintaining a conciliatory and peaceful course, and the negroes asserting their claims with arrogance and violent demonstrations. They were finally quieted by the assurance that their claims should be taken into consideration, and such arrangements made as could with propriety be brought about. This means nothing, of course, as the demands of the negroes must be complied with or resisted. In case they are complied with, the town, and as a consequence the surrounding country, will be under their rule, and if they are not, a conflict may be expected between the white and black races, in which the former will have great difficulty in maintaining their ground, as they are in the minority. There are about twenty-two hundred negroes in Chatham alone.

At Sandwich, three miles below this city, there was a disturbance growing out of the same cause. The whites, in apportioning the school tax, assessed themselves only, leaving the negro population out, in order that they might not control the cause of education by their votes at the ballot-box. The negroes were highly incensed at this, and went in a body to the polls on the occasion of the election of school officers, determined to vote. They were resisted and driven away, and much ill-feeling and enmity engendered.

It will be seen by all of these indications that the negro population of our neighboring province is becoming organized and bold in its opposition to the legitimate institutions of the country, and overbearing and insolent towards its rightful citizens. We may safely say that the hatred with which they are regarded in return is not less violent or open than their own demonstrations. There are very few whites living on the borders, where this fugitive race most congregate, so fanatic as to close their eyes to the fact that their immigration is fast tending towards the demoralization of the country. As citizens they are worthless to the last degree, while crime prevails among them to an alarming extent, and swells the criminal calendars of the country with the most revolting offences. Canada has nursed a viper in its bosom, which is now preparing to turn upon it. The hordes of blacks which have for years poured into its border counties are beginning to feel their power, and, if we mistake not, will give infinite trouble before they are again crushed down to their proper level.

Republican Folly.

We see by the proceedings of the Legislature that several days have been spent in discussing resolutions censuring the Democrats for not organising the House of Representatives at Washington! Of all absurd actions of Legislatures that we ever heard of, this caps the climax. These gentlemen were elected to attend to the business of the State, not of the Nation—to legislate for the State, not to act as an advisory body to Congress. But, admitting the subject to have been properly before them, why should the Democrats be accused of preventing the organization of the House at Washington? There are not more than 90 of them in that body, while there are 111 Republicans, besides about 30 Know Nothings and others elected in opposition to the Democracy. If the Democrats had a majority in the body, they might be justly censured if they failed to organize, but they are in a minority and their enemies have the majority. Any sensible man will see, then, who is to blame.

The resolutions were resisted with energy by the Democracy in both Houses. Senator WELSH, of York, exposed the untruths they contained, as well as their falacy and absurdity, in a speech of great power. It was a closely logical, conclusive and brilliant argument from beginning to end, but he might as well have wasted his rhetoric on the bare walls of the capitol, so far as the votes of the Opposition Senators were concerned. Fanaticism and Abolition disunionism in Congress required bolstering, and the Pennsylvania Legislature was called upon to make the sacrifice. The virulence with which Mr. WELSH's speech is attacked in the Harrisburg Telegraph shows that while it did not drive the Republican Senators from their folly, it fell like a thunderbolt amongst them. Not one of them attempted a reply, and the Telegraph labors to make up this deficiency by its usual resort to billingsgate. We know of no surer evidence of merit than the abuse of a common blackguard, and in this phase the Telegraph is a prolific and perfect witness.—Clinton Democrat.

GENERAL NEWS.

"A WILD-CAT BANK."—Two years ago a wild-cat bank failed at Gosport, Ind., leaving its notes to the amount of about $500,000 in the hands of the public, towards the redemption of which nothing has since been done.—Referring to this fact, the Cincinnati Gazette says:—The proprietors of that concern have, we are informed, concluded to try their hand again at the business, selecting as a location this time, however, the District of Columbia, instead of Indiana. Arrangements have been made, we understand, for a large issue from Washington city, and an officer of the "institution" was in this city last week, making terms with parties to give it a "circulation." He is rather "seedy" for a banker, but his countenance denotes that sharpness which is characteristic of successful wild-cat speculators. Look out, then, for District of Columbia "money."

A WICKED LITTLE WOMAN WITH GREEN SPECS.—One Rev. Mr. A. S. Finch publishes a card, in which he says that while attending the Brockport camp meeting, a woman, small in statute, wearing specs, and prepossessing in appearance, appeared, pursued him in a carriage, told him of her esteem and how much she was worth, and induced him to marry her. He consented, the knot was tied, and she having accomplished his ruin, forsook him, probably to find another victim. Mr. Finch says she served two men in the same way before; one in Canada and the other in Wisconsin; the latter is in a destitute condition. He gives warning that she may not inflict similar outrages again.

BOGUS HUMANITY ILLUSTRATED. Where is Mrs. Child?—A frightful number of poor women—young girls the most of them—are still lying half dead and in most excruciating agonies in the City Hall, at Lawrence, Mass. These poor women need kind nursing and gentle words to smooth their passage to the tomb. Where, oh! where is Mrs. Lydia Maria Child? Can only murderers, horse thieves, and traitors stir her sympathies? Why is she not at the bedside of these ill-fated sufferers? Is it because they are of her own sex? or because it is their misfortune to be white instead of black?—N. Y. Express.

MUTINY IN A HOUSE OF REFUGE.—A mutiny occurred in the house of refuge at Cincinnati last Friday, during which H. M. Jones the superintendent, was stabbed in three places by a youth named M'Donald. One of the wounds, inflicted with a knife, is in the left side of the face, just below the jaw-bone, passing down into the throat, and in the transit nearly severing the jugular vein. Mr. Jones is lying in a dangerous condition.

AN ALARMING ACCIDENT.—The other day in Eldred township, Jefferson county, Pa., a large pine tree, which was being cut down, fell across a school house hard by, crushing it to atoms. There were forty children in at the time, yet singular to say, only one was fatally injured.

☞It is stated in some of the daily papers that a gang of men is organized in Adams county, in this State, whose object it is to take the life of the Constable who captured Cook and returned him to Harper's Ferry. If such exists, the officers of that county should ferret them out without delay, and when secured the law should show them no mercy.

☞The Allentown Democrat says there "will be six eclipses this year—two of the sun, two of the moon, and two of the Republican or Opposition party. The two latter will occur in October and November—one of which will be visible in Pennsylvania, and the other all over the Union."

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Survive or Perish. Chest Afflictions.—During this season of the year the terrible sacrifice of human life is really alarming, and the bills of mortality considerably swelled by rash exposure to the damp atmosphere, which received into the lungs poisons the very fount of the blood and induces bronchitis, pleurisy asthma and consumption, all of which may be speedily prevented by a timely recourse to Holloway's famous Pills and Ointment—no time should be lost, the least delay being dangerous and productive of the most frightful consequences. All who die with such remedies at hand are morally guilty of self-destruction.

MARRIED.

On the evening of the 12th inst., at the residence of the groom's father, by Abrm. H. Hull, Esq., Mr. Harrison Feather to Miss Mary Jane Cowen, all of Union Township, Bedford county, Pa.

DIED:

Near Schellsburg, on the 7th inst., Mrs. Eleanor Border, in the 60th year of her age.

On Friday, the 20th inst., MR. A. R. CRAINE, in the 57th year of his age.

Mr. Craine had been for many years previous to his death a resident of Bedford county. He was regarded as a most estimable man, by those who were long and intimately acquainted with him. Kind and courteous in his intercourse with others, and in all the relations of life of irreproachable character, his sudden decease is widely felt and sincerely mourned. He was a member of the Presbyterian church in Bedford. His last days were characterized by great peace of mind and cheerful resignation to the will of God. He seemed to have a clear apprehension of the plan of salvation, and unshaken confidence in the love and faithfulness of Christ. He repeatedly said to the writer: "I cling to Jesus. He is my only hope. He will not leave me nor forsake me."

And now, his sufferings ended, we trust he has entered into rest. "And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

On Sunday, the 15th inst., Willie Bowles, son of Adam and Ellen M. Ferguson, aged 2 years and 9 days.

I saw one dewy morning;
(Each one a little gem)
Four tiny, lovely blossoms,
Hang on the parent stem.

I looked again at even,
And my heart grew sad and sore;
One little bud had wither'd,
The worm was at its core.

I saw one summer evening,
As the sun sank in the west,
Four chirping little birdlings,
Within the parent nest.

I looked again at morning
For the storm had burst o'erhead,
And of those tender nestlings
One little bird was dead.

I saw four children cluster
Around the parent hearth;
Joyous and bright and happy,
So full of infant mirth.

I looked again to see them
The glad home fire beside;
But one bright face was missing,
One cherub boy had died.

Ah, me! I cried in sorrow,
It is ever thus with earth,
Pleasure to-day—to-morrow
Bereavement, mourning, dearth.

Our flowers are ever fading,
Our bright things all decay,
Scarce do we clasp our treasures,
Ere they are torn away.

But list! a voice is saying,
"This place is not your rest;"
To be here ever staying
Would make us quite unblest.

Whose flowers here all are blooming,
Hath none in Paradise:—
Who has no gems in glory,
Will scarce to glory rise.

Then, 'reft one, lift above you,
Your "heart with anguish riven;"
Your little bird's an angel;
Your blossom blooms in heaven.

FITS! WHY PROMINENT.

For a long time there was a paragraph making its regular weekly appearance in our columns with the brief, but emphatic words "Fits! Fits!" always at the head, to some an offensive caption, but not so to the benevolent and humane, who could sympathize in the sorrows of others. Some persons are shocked at any indication of disease, and are even thrown into nervous excitement on witnessing a hearse or a coffin. Such are to be pitied. We should always strive to look disease and even death in the face with calmness, and especially take every opportunity for alleviating disease. Viewed in this light, the advertisements of S. S. Hance, of 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md., possess a certain interest, and those who know of any one suffering from Epilepsy, Spasms, or Fits of any kind, should feel it a pleasure to cut out his advertisement, or in some other way send word to the afflicted of the great value of his remedies. They can be sent to any part of the country by mail. Price, $3 per box. Two, $5. Twelve, $21.

IT IS A common observation that there are more sufferers from debility among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation.—The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Fostetter has given to the world, in his Celebrated "Bitters." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting-house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is so debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

I am now enjoying perfect health, and cheerfully recommend Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Liver Pills to all similarly afflicted.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

IT is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE AND LIVER PILLS.

WE beg leave to call the attention of the Trade, and more especially the Physicians of the country, to two of the most popular remedies now before the public. We refer to

Dr. Chas. M'Lane's Celebrated

Vermifuge and Liver Pills.

We do not recommend them as universal Cure-alls, but simply for what their name purports, viz.:

THE VERMIFUGE,

For expelling Worms from the human system. It has also been administered with the most satisfactory results to various Animals subject to Worms.

THE LIVER PILLS,

For the cure of LIVER COMPLAINTS, all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS, SICK HEAD-ACHE, &c. In cases of preparatory to or after taking Quinine, they almost invariably make a speedy and permanent cure.

FEVER AND AGUE,

As specifics for the above mentioned diseases, they are Unrivaled, and never known to fail when administered in accordance with the directions.

Their unprecedented popularity has induced the proprietors,

FLEMING BROTHERS,

PITTSBURGH, PA.

to dispose of their Drug business, in which they have been successfully engaged for the last Twenty Years, and they will now give their undivided time and attention to their manufacture. And being determined that Dr. M'Lane's Celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills shall continue to occupy the high position they now hold among the great remedies of the day, they will continue to spare neither time nor expense in procuring the Best and Purest material, and compound them in the most thorough manner. ## HEALTH AND ITS PLEASURES, OR DISEASE WITH ITS AGONIES; CHOOSE BETWEEN THEM!

Holloway's Pills.

Nervous Disorders.

What is more fearful than a breaking down of the nervous system? To be excitable or nervous in a small degree is most distressing, for where can a remedy be found? There is one:—drink but little wine, beer, or spirits, or far better none; take no coffee—weak tea being preferable; get all the fresh air you can; take three or four Pills every night; eat plenty of solids, avoiding the use of slops; and if these golden rules are followed, you will be happy in mind and strong in body, and forget you have any nerves.

Mothers and Daughters.

If there is one thing more than another for which these Pills are so famous it is their purifying properties, especially their power of cleansing the blood from all impurities, and removing dangerous and suspended secretions. Universally adopted as the one grand remedy for female complaints, they never fail, never weaken the system, and always bring about what is required.

Sick Headaches and Want of Appetite,

These feelings which so sadden us, most frequently arise from annoyances or trouble, from obstructed perspiration, or from eating and drinking what is unfit for us, thus disordering the liver and stomach. These organs must be regulated if you wish to be well. The Pills, if taken according to the printed instructions, will quickly restore a healthy action to both liver and stomach, whence follow as a natural consequence, a good appetite and a clear head. In the East and West Indies scarcely any other medicine is ever used for these disorders.

Disorders of the Kidneys,

In all diseases affecting these organs, whether they secrete too much or too little water; or whether they be afflicted with stone or gravel, or with aches and pains settled in the loins over the regions of the kidneys, these Pills should be taken according to the printed directions, and the Ointment should be well rubbed into the small of the back at bed time. This treatment will give almost immediate relief when all other means have failed.

For Stomachs Out of Order.

No medicine will so effectually improve the tone of the stomach as these Pills; they remove all acidity, occasioned either by intemperance or improper diet. They reach the liver and reduce it to a healthy action; they are wonderfully efficacious in cases of spasms—in fact they never fail in curing all disorders of the liver and Stomach.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases.

A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

IRON STORE.

STOCK SELECTED WITH THE GREAT EST CARE AND sufficiently large to meet the wants of the people of Bedford co. Every exertion made to please, both in goods and prices.

FOR CASH, all goods in my line sold as low as they can be got in Cumberland or Hollidaysburg, and many things cheaper. CASH buyers favored particularly. Six month buyers not quite so well liked, but if prompt in payment, will find their bills O. K., to their entire satisfaction. As my priced are fixed for the two classes of customers names above, I have no prices to suit that class, whether rich or poor, who contract debts for their executors to pay, or the limitation to liquidate. So that those whose credit is not very good and who are slow in paying debts, or get mad when dunned, will please buy for CASH, or produce, or not at all—as I have lost enough and am tired dunning such customers.
